VOLUNTEERS WORKING AT HISTORICAL PARK

A number of local citizens have volunteered their time and efforts four hours each week to help visitors to the Historical Park enjoy their stay. Volunteers-in-Parks (V.I.P.) are working in the interpretation of the McLean House, preservation and cataloging of museum collections and in horse care programs. Though primarily utilized during the busier summer months, volunteers are also needed in the fall and spring. Area residents interested in the VIP program are asked to contact the park.

Daniel Hailed By Conservative Group

The American Conservative Union (ACU) has commended the voting record of 5th District Congressman Dan Daniel. Specifically, the ACU cited the Congressman's votes to "stem inflation by cutting excessive government spending, reduce the Federal bureaucracy, and strengthen national defense."

Rep. Daniel received a 100 percent conservative rating on ACU's Interim Key Issues Index for the 1st Congress. The rating was based on 15 key votes in the House during the first six months of 1975. ACU further praised the Congressman as a leader in the efforts to organize House conservatives for greater effectiveness.

"At a time when concern for the fate and fundamental direction of the American political process is so great, the voting public deserves to know where their elected representatives stand, unequivocally and without hesitation," declared ACU Chairman M. Stanton Evans. "Representative Daniel has forthrightly upheld the American traditions of limited government, fiscal integrity, and strong national defense. His voting record shows that he knows irresponsible Federal Spending is the real cause of inflation -- and ultimately of recession as well."

Family: [Back Row] Sen. & Mrs. Ferguson with son, Joseph D. [Front Row] Russell Samuel, Jr. and Rachel.

omattox County . . .
Yesterday And Today

In memoriam, the late United States Senator Harry Flood Byrd, Jr. said of Senator Ferguson:

"No man in recent public life in Virginia rendered more efficient and unselfish service. Able, warm and patriotic, he gave to Virginia a preeminent service which marks his career as one which will always be remembered with gratitude by those who value sound and progressive government. To his friends, his memory will never die and his loss can never be filled."

Senator Ferguson was born in a two-room log cabin and was proud of it. Some folks once wondered if this was what motivated him to build such a large home. A friend of Mr. Ferguson's asked, "Sam, why did you build such a large house?" After deliberating, Mr. Ferguson replied, "Well, the house plans were lost and we had to ramble aorund until we could finish the job. It will be a monument to my ignorance."

It was well that he did not know before he passed on in 1964 that his dream house was to be torn down. The family exhausted every channel to avoid demolition of this stately yellow colonial home but to no avail. It was offered to the State of Virginia to house a Civil War Museum but this did not materialize. In 1964 the civic clubs of Appomattox County turned down the gift of "Courtland" to house a community center after a special committee considered its maintenance costs. (In 1965 the lowest bid received to put on one coat of paint on the exterior was $8,000.) Thus it was decided by the family to dismantle the mansion rather than see it deteriorate gradually.

Gilbert H. Wilson, Jr., the great grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, and Edward Johnson, Jr., of Virginia Beach, were awarded the contract to dismantle the home. They worked long and hard hours for approximately five months. Some of the materials were sold with the most popular items being the hundreds of balusters-upright supports for porch railings, staircases or balconies. These were bought by those who desired some souvenir by which they could remember "Courtland". The balusters made up beautifully into fireplace candle holders.

DRIVE CAREFULLY,
THE LIFE YOU SAVE
MAY BE YOUR OWN.

It is interesting to note that when "Courtland" was constructed, its cost was estimated by Mrs. Ferguson's secretary, Mrs. George Runner (now of Sandusky, Ohio), as being $60,000. An architect from Tallahassee, Florida, after touring the house in 1965, estimated its cost of construction (then) at $300,000!

To the younger generation in this section the tearing down of "Courtland" was not extremely significant, but to the old-timers left, many of the good times of a different generation at this home were now left only to the imagination. The lifestyle that was "Courtland's" makes for many fond memories today.

Area residents interested in viewing a smaller-scale version of "Courtland" can still do so. On the 500-acre estate of "Roquin" in Alberta, Virginia (Brunswick County) exists the home of Mrs. Ruth White of Washington, D.C. Mrs. White bought the home in 1968 from Mrs. Virginia L. Bragg. Mrs. Bragg persuaded her husband, the late Doctor Bragg, to build her a home similar to "Courtland" following a trip to Appomattox. The similarity of "Roquin" to "Courtland" is strikingly eerie.

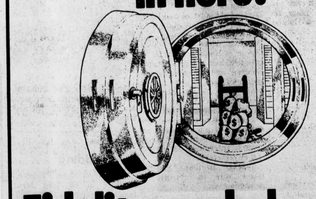
Any bank can help you save money in here.


Fidelity can help you save it out there.

With discounts at some of our best local stores.

While other banks have sat back and watched prices go up, we've come up with something to help bring them back down.

It's a service called "The Going Thing." Which can get you discounts for you at some of the best stores around. On things you'd normally buy anyway—but at a higher price.

And we're not talking about discounts of just a few cents either. But reductions that really make sense. From ten to twenty-five percent. Reductions that can easily add up to quite a bundle.

And for once it's money you can save without a lot of doing without. In fact, this is one way you can save without even thinking about it. (Which, when you think about it, is a pretty good deal.)

But that's not all.

Besides plenty of discounts, "The Going Thing" offers you plenty of other things too. Like a bonus checking account. (Which gives you wallet-style checks at no extra cost and no service charge.) Special rates on group trips. A safe deposit box at half price. Preferential rates on instalment loans.

And a $5,000 term life insurance policy (if you qualify).

How you can join in the savings.

Now considering how much you get out of "The Going Thing," you might think it would take a lot to get in on it. But it doesn't. In fact, if you're 18 or older, you can just stop by any Fidelity office and sign up in minutes.

After which all you have to do is carry a "Going Thing" card. (So that store owners will know enough to undercharge you enough.) And pay a monthly fee of from $1.50 to $4.00, depending on how many of our services you want.

Which, when you think about it, is a small amount to pay for what can easily amount to some really big savings.

And we do hope you'll think about it. Along with the fact that no other bank has "The Going Thing" going for it. Except Fidelity. So that when you think about saving, you'll see that you have two pretty clear choices.

Go with any of the banks that can keep your money in a vault. Or go with the one bank that can help you put it there. Us.
